BIOGRAPHICAL/HISTORICAL NOTE

Alvin Benjamin Rubin was born in Alexandria, Louisiana on March 13, 1920. He received his Bachelor of Science from LSU in 1941 and his LLB, also from LSU, in 1942, where he ranked first in his class. He worked as an attorney in private practice in Baton Rouge, specializing in tax law, corporate transactions, and trusts and estates. He also returned to LSU as a professor of law. In 1966, he was appointed by President Johnson to the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Louisiana. In 1977, he was appointed by President Carter to the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit.

Rubin had many notable achievements as an attorney. After the Vietnam War, his expertise in civil law led to being asked by the State Department to help South Vietnam draft a constitution. He co-authored Louisiana Pleadings and Judicial Forms Annotated, which he continued to update for twenty years. He was instrumental in the passage of legislation that allowed the creation of trusts in Louisiana, which was previously prohibited.

As a federal judge, Rubin was equally active and well-respected. He wrote more than 700 opinions during his tenure, many of them concerned with civil rights and liberties, including ending the exemption on women in juries and applying the Voting Rights Act to local elections. He was known for his clear writing and for the humor that he injected into his opinions, once even quoting Dr. Seuss. He also co-wrote the first law clerk handbook for the federal system. One of his greatest joys as a judge was conducting naturalization ceremonies in open court. He was the son of immigrants from war-torn Eastern Europe and spoke passionately about the rights they gained once naturalized, equal to those who were born in the United States.

During the last two years of his life, Rubin battled cancer, but continued to serve as a judge and to teach and travel until the day of his death. He was married to Janice Ginsberg Rubin and had two sons, Michael and David.

SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

This collection includes files from cases over which Judge Rubin presided, as well as cases in which he had some level of participation (e.g., advising another judge). The cases are from both his time as a District Court judge in the Eastern District of Louisiana and as a judge on the Fifth Circuit. The majority of these case decisions (even those labeled as “unpublished”) are available through various online legal databases such as Westlaw and LexisNexis.

The collection also contains personal files which consist primarily of information from various professional organizations, conferences, and correspondence. There are also files related to the classes which he taught at LSU and to research issues.

PROCESSING NOTE

This collection was minimally processed in the fall of 2013 and spring of 2014 by Law Library fellow/library science graduate student Sara V. Pic. Technical Services undergraduate student workers Emily Gundlach and Ellen Wagner compiled the folder list. These activities took place under the supervision of the Law Library Archivist, Travis H. Williams.

Judge Rubin's records remain in the original order he created for personal use (which is mostly alphabetical). The boxes discarded due to their poor condition were from several different series within the collection. Some items of a personal nature were withdrawn and returned to the Rubin family in 2013 and 2014 at their request.

The collection is in fair physical condition, with some signs of acidification in the papers and folders. Folder labels remain legible and mostly intact. The collection was deemed appropriate for minimal processing. The collection remains in its original housing and has not received item level processing (such as the removal of paperclips and staples).
