Faculty Highlights

Professor Keith Hall spoke on “Reconciling Property Rights with Carbon Capture and Storage” at a Contemporary Issues in Property Law Symposium at Belmont Law School in Nashville, Tennessee on Friday, September 30, 2022. Professor Hall also spoke during September on the topic of Mineral Rights at LSU’s Recent Development CLE Series in Lake Charles and Baton Rouge. Also, he was recently appointed to a three-year term on Budget Committee of the Foundation for Natural Resources and Energy Law (FNREL) and to a four-year term on FNREL’s Financial Advisory Committee.

Professor Christina Sautter participated in a virtual panel on September 28 sponsored by the SMU Dedman School of Law’s Robert B. Rowling Center for Business Law & Leadership commenting on Professor Marc Steinberg’s book Rethinking Securities Laws. Other panelists were the Honorable Harvey Pitt (former SEC Chair), Alan Dye, and Joel Seligman (Washington University School of Law).

Professor Sautter presented her co-authored work-in-progress, Wireless Investors, during the Nature, Purpose and Mechanics of Business Corporations II panel of the World Interdisciplinary Network for Institutional Research (WINIR) Conference on September 9.

Professor Sautter and her co-author, Dr. Sergio Alberto Gramitto Ricci, were invited to write a post Millennials and GenZ'ers Have Only One Lifetime to Change the World with Their Investments for The FinReg Blog, Global Financial Markets Center at Duke University School of Law, based on their work-in-progress Wireless Investors. They also were invited to write a post, How Retail Investing Improves Corporate Governance and Benefits Society, for The CLS Blue Sky Blog (Columbia Law School's Blog on Corporations and Capital Markets), which they were invited to republish on The University of Oxford, Oxford Business Law Blog. The blog posts feature their forthcoming book chapter, Harnessing the Collective Power of Retail Investors.

Staff Highlights

Whitney West's presentation "Rectifying DEI Conversations: Increasing Consideration for Disability and Chronic Conditions" has been accepted by the American Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers (AACRAO) for presentation at their 32nd Annual Strategic Enrollment Management (SEM) Conference to be held November 13-16, 2022, in Toronto, Ontario Canada. She also recently presented to the National Co-op of Grocers at their fall meeting in Minneapolis/St Paul on Disability and DEI for Co-op growth and improvement.

Training Notice

Power-based Violence Prevention and Response: Due September 30, 2022

The mandatory training on power-based violence prevention and response is now available. All employees including faculty, staff, and graduate assistants are required to take this online training annually through Moodle. This year's hour-long course was developed by the Board of Regents and the Office of Civil Rights & Title IX, in partnership with the Office of Human Resource Management. You can access the 2022 Power-Based Violence Prevention & Response Training through your Moodle account, or you can visit the mandatory employee training page to view all mandatory trainings.

Louisiana state law now requires all public institutions of higher education to report the number of employees who have completed the training to the Board of Regents and the Louisiana legislature. Since the report is due in early October, to meet this compliance demand, please complete the training by midnight on Sept. 30, 2022.

For further information or training on power-based violence and sexual misconduct, please contact the Title IX office at titleix@lsu.edu or 225-578-9000. For technical questions regarding accessing and completing the modules, please contact hrmtraining@lsu.edu.
